Presents

AN AESOP SOUND FABLE

THE FLY'S BRIDE

By John Foster.

While flies dance in one part of the room, a fly cop directs traffic around the fly paper. Ferdinand Horsefly whistling along on his bike, rides into the sticky stuff.

His cries attract the cop who calls the ambulance and the fire truck. The ambulance crew and the firemen trying to rescue Ferdinand, fall on the fly paper. A bright thought strikes the stranded bike rider, who takes to his wings and flys away, leaving his rescuers stuck.

Ferdinand calls up pretty Irene Insect and announces that he'd be right over. On his way, Bill Beetle spots him, chasing him into a cellar. A drop of hard cider falls upon our hero whose courage rises and gives him strength to fight the beetle.

Meanwhile, Irene is waiting for her lover. Slick Sam Spider sights her, grabs her and makes off. Ferdinand pie eyed as he is, hears her cries and staggers to her rescue. Pulling out his trusty .32 he makes quick work of the sneaky spider and presses Irene to his lips.

All of which goes to show that,

"YOU CAN'T FOOL A HORSEFLY".
